

FARIBORZ MASEEH
DEPARTMENT OF
MATHEMATICS + STATISTICS

Portland State University,
Portland, Oregon.
Fariborz Maseeh Department of Mathematics & Statistics
Tenure Track Position in Mathematical Analysis

The Fariborz Maseeh Department of Mathematics and Statistics at Portland State University invites applications for a tenure track position in Analysis, to begin in Fall 2012. The intent is to fill this faculty position at the Assistant Professor level. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Mathematics and an active research program in Analysis; the specific area within the broad field of analysis is open. The successful candidate will demonstrate the potential for contributing to our distinctive Ph.D. program and for securing external funding.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach graduate and undergraduate courses, and actively participate in supervising graduate students, as well as conduct research. In particular, it is expected that the new hire will actively contribute to our Mathematical Sciences PhD program (<http://www.mth.pdx.edu/programs/phd.asp>) by offering new courses and attracting outstanding students.

Qualified applicants should submit a current CV, a statement of interest that details what the candidate will bring to the position, a description of the candidate's teaching philosophy and research agenda, and at least three letters of recommendation. Address all materials to the Analysis Search Committee and send (in PDF format) to mathposition@pdx.edu.

Consideration of applications will begin January 31, 2012 and will continue until the position is filled.

Portland is consistently ranked as one of the world's most livable cities, and Portland State University has established a record of excellence in research, teaching, community outreach, and sustainability. Please see www.pdx.edu for more details.
